The sky's the limit

Gavit outlook for 1965 expanded in all directions with initiation of academic west wing, industrial east wing and 1,200-seat auditorium. Students discovered construction-peeking can be fun as gaps and new passageways provided temptation.

First homecoming, complete with giant gold mums, effigy-burning bonfire, pre-game parade and victory dance, set activities aflame with loyalty spirit.

Academic horizons heralded advent of IBM report cards, 16 new high school courses and the birth of middle school electives, Gavit's pioneer experiment.

Spring sports improvement embellished outlook of 1966 Northwest Conference competition. Six All-Star gridmen, two sectional wrestling champs and Calumet Region's highest scoring roundballer opened rival's eyes to the Gavit sports threat.

Addition housed offset press where editors inked hands for first printed Scroll. Conservation Club formed ranks for beauty-marking Gavit domain.

Enrollment encroached on 2,000 mark as middle schoolers met the challenge of locker-hunting in 3,000-nook maze. Twenty-three new faculty members and two administrators joined students in searching for new and renumbered rooms.

Gavit inched its potential to the tilt, making the sky the limit.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' STATE REPRESENTATIVES—J. Newcomb, B. Carpenter (alternates), W. Franey, S. Linnemeier, J. Block, A. Lewin (representatives).

AUDITION granted Bill Thegze 30-day European concert-tour with All-Student Band USA. Band will fly from New York June 13 and wind up with World's Fair concert.

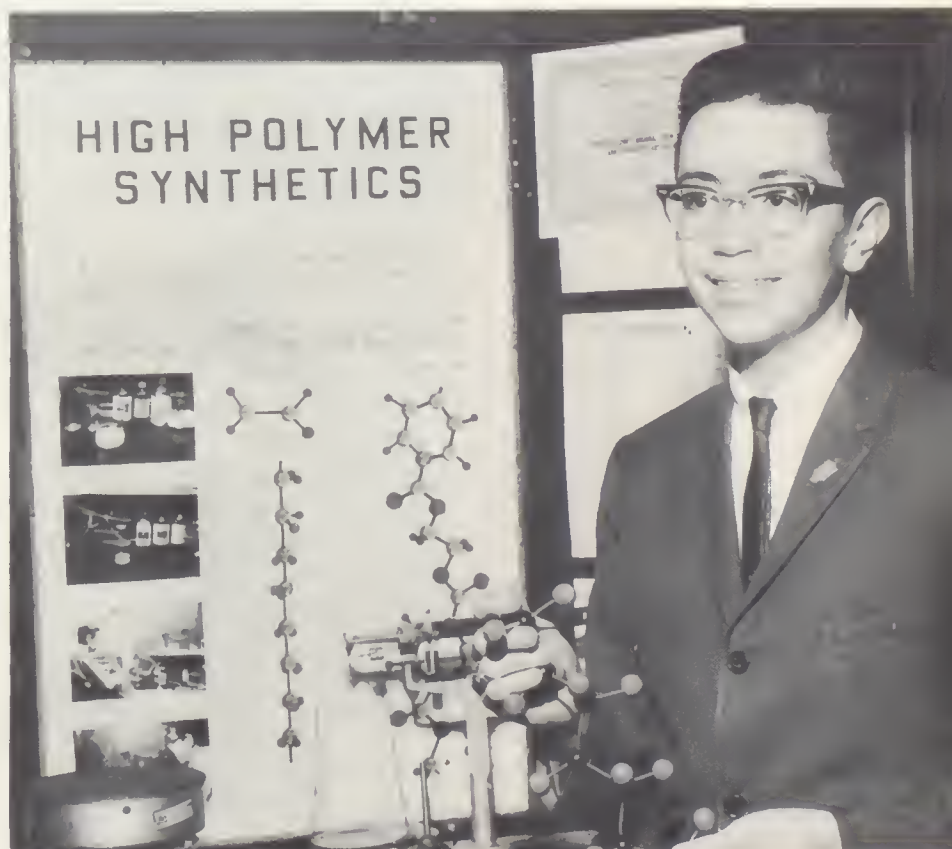

VALEDICTORIAN and salutarian are Jerry Knath, 4.9857 average and Frank Laciak, 4.8065.

NATIONAL MERIT FINALISTS Greg Patchen and Marty Newcomb rank in the 99.5 percentile.

JUNIOR JOHN SNEKSER won first place medal in regional science fair with his project on molecular structure.

Activities

Before-and after-hours spice routine

ARMED WITH HOMEWORK and pre-dinner treat, senior Kathy Gyure wades through assignment in preparation for next day's expected test.

CYCLIST Mr. Jahn Swanson relies on "pedaling power" to commute.

"ASSISTANT DRIVER" Bruce Natkin pilots senior Karen Knitter as she aims at parking space in student lot.

SHELVING PICKLES, stack boys Rick Ray, Paul McNamara and Bab Moore stack their way through part-time jobs.

Typical school scenes spice routine

LEAVING WRAPPERS, empty plates in his wake, the overage senior boy downs two sandwiches, one and one-fifth ice cream bors, two cortons of milk and one and two-fifths Twinkies during lunch.

Scaling one way stairs, dialing locker combinations and rushing to classes, book-burdened students trudged through a typical school day.

"Early bird" first hour students hit the books at 7:45 a.m. while "late comers" began the day with second hour at 8:45 a.m.

Hall commuters bearing wooden passes or green attendance sheets whizzed past stationed hall monitors to their destinations.

Decked in posters, the hallways turned into fieldhouse as practicing trackmen clad in tennis shoes bolted through them.

Construction workers became a familiar sight as they hammered their way down the halls putting finishing touches on the construction.

En route to classes, students stopped to investigate showcases decorated with displays ranging from "leder hosen," Bavarian Bermudas, to German beer steins, bee hives and trophies.

After taking notes, tests, writing themes, term papers and developing writer's cramp, homeward-bound high schoolers filed out of the building at either 2:45 or 3:45 p.m.

LURING long lines of thirsty students, 23 fountains tempt hall commuters like senior Jone Dibblee to pause for a "water break."

CHOOSING one of the library's 47 magazines, freshman Gene Sajka pages through Sports Illustrated during after school hours.

PEDDLING wares from ink cartridges to Kleenex, book store students-turned-salesmen supply the crowds with stationery.

BURYING their noses in books, study hall'ers send pencils sailing as they bane up on homework assignments.

JUNIOR FLOAT MAKERS lounch repair job on trophy-winning entry, "Golden Road to Victory."

Victory, tradition tag first homecoming

Kindling spirit, lumber, Friday night bonfire sparked first homecoming. Gridmen fed flames with Ingot effigy, while cheerleaders and rooters hurled into "homecoming hysteria".

Two-hour horn-honking parade, boasting thirty-five vehicles and one white horse, threaded through Gavit area for corner spectators.

Braced with homecoming programs, popcorn, taffy apples and throat lozenges, grid backers bombarded bleachers for afternoon game.

Crowd of 1,600 pennant-waving fans, decked in purple and gold corsages and booster badges, rallied Glads to 45-6 win over River Forest.

Spurring purple-clad tacklers, Mr. James Federoff, Booster Club president, dedicated official new scoreboard during half-time.

Junior class, Spanish Club and cheerleaders' entries copped awards in float competition.

Marching band and white-gloved drill team filed across turf in mid-game maneuvers.

Senior princesses Tula Carstensen, Nancy Pickett and junior attendants Wendy Franey, Sue Von Almen shared Rose Ann Sapyta's reign.

"TONIGHT" themes victory dance topping "homecoming hysteria" for junior Mary Macey and alumnus Jim Roper.

REIGNING over cheerleader-sponsored sack hop, Queen Rose Ann Sopyto and shoeless escort Bob Takacs dance to music of the Fugitives.

TAGGED with tears and roses, half-time announcement of queen triggers chain reaction.

STAGE STAR Wendy Franey basks in fame as family Linda Dacus, Andi Beoty, Margie Skolbo and Betsy Holey conspire to scold her for couch-flung feet.

"Time out for Ginger" retires gym

One female grid star, her irate father and two arguing sisters fashioned plot of three-act comedy, "Time Out For Ginger."

Under drama coach Mrs. Bernice Johnson and student director Linda Venable, ten-member cast battled gym accoustics to entertain bleacher-bound audience Nov. 13 and 14.

Ten committees backboned play with poster painting, ticket and program printing while stage, lighting and sound crews timed background effects from behind scenes.

Prop committee imported stage-bound furniture for front room stage setting from teachers' lounge. Mail bags, contributed by Uncle Sam, stored Ginger's fan mail.

DISPLAYING grid stance, Linda Dacus tackles lead in "Time out for Ginger" as Alan Hachman turns cheerleader for his "daughter".

AWED PARENTS Alan Hackman and Margie Skalba witness duel triggered by Bab Murfin's injured ego as Ginger attempts conciliation.

DENIED THE RIGHT to play football, irate Ginger, alias Linda Dacus, adapts indignant smirk and clinched fists.

GREASE PAINT, baby powder and lipstick get actors Linda Dacus and Jahn Cannars into character for rehearsal.

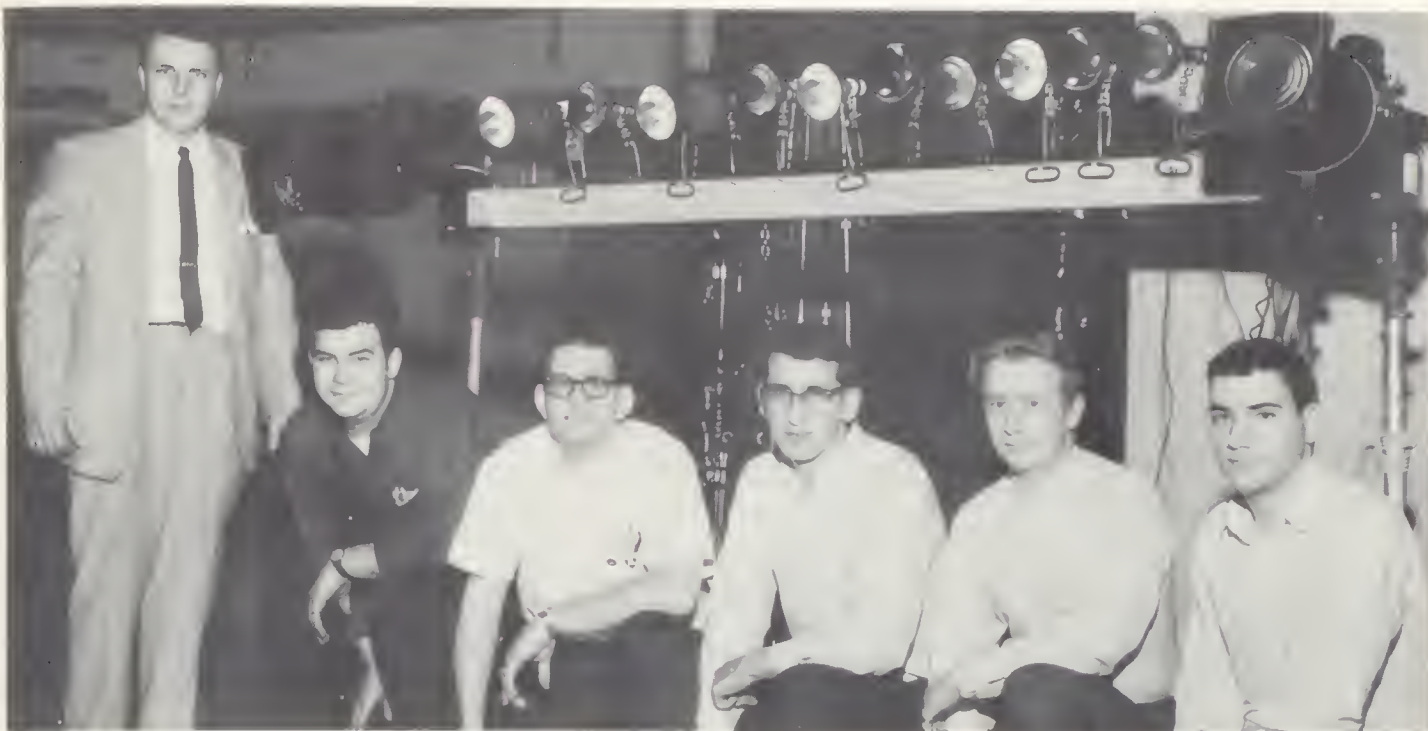

IN DAILY REHEARSAL, Mork Erger pleads for encouragement from Thursday night's Gloriana, Linda Dacus, while page and noble advisor observe.

Players score "Mouse" for musical twist

PAGE Morgie Skalba, ladies Jeon and Jana Grobski and nobles Marty Stiglitz and Rich Bouton gawk at Tully's legend of a "Mouse That Roared".

STAGE CREW—Mr. Roland Unkuri (spon.), T. Withom (assistant stage mgr.), A. Hachman (stage mgr.), R. Harasty (electrician), D. Sorg (carpenter), F. Palazzolo (audio engineer).

PRESIDENT of the United States, Linda Venable, and General Snippet, Alan Hachman, debate weighty problem of Q-bomb in the war with Grand Fenwick.

PRELUDING Arabian fantasy, "Kismet", tumblers Mike Hand, Walter Wozniak and Rich Ferguson pyramid, while snake charmer Bill Weliky lures mock viper.

MIXED GLEE CLUB'ERS Debbie Vance and Linda McCormick impersonate Japanese maids in "Mikodo".

HERALDING YULETIDE SEASON, charalers perform

GIRLS' CHORUS portion of "It's Entertainment" creates spring mood with pastel floor-length gowns.

Christmas, spring concerts fill gym

Christmas Concert in aura of make-shift windows and candelabrum.

STRAW HATS, striped vests and black canes lend Vaudeville twist to Boys' Chorus' "Swanee River" at Spring Choral Concert, "It's Entertainment."

DECKED IN PROM FINERY, juniors Phil Spitale and Jean Grabski follow "prom procedure" of signing the guest register.

PIPING OUT NOTES, the band's saxophone player sets the tempo for the prom's dancing couples.

TULA CARSTENSEN, sporting a glittering tiara, and Chuck Stahl begin their reign as prom queen and king. Junior class president Dove Rich and former queen Carol Farsberg officiate at the coronation.

"Midnight Mist" coats Scherwood Club

Pre-prom panic that sent economy-minded boys pinching pennies and calorie-conscious girls crash dieting ended with second prom, May 16, 1964.

"Midnight Mist" theme coated the atmosphere at Schererville's Scherwood Club as 122 couples danced to music of Johnnie Nowlan.

Blue strips of ribbon garnished with white netting parted the white table tops. Champagne glass centerpieces rimmed with blue angel hair and filled with blue water cradled a floating candle. Two white carnations straddled centerpieces.

Student-elected queen, Tula Carstensen and her escort Chuck Stahl led the grand march around the blue and white decorated ballroom.

Midnight buffet dinner provided by Condes' Restaurant followed the coronation.

Three-thirty a.m. brunch ended festivity.

PROM CINDERELLAS whirl to the music of Johnnie Nowlan's Band.

PROM'S HONORED GUESTS include Dr. Joseph Hendrick, superintendent of Hommand Public Schools, Mrs. Hendrick, Mrs. Gavil and Mr. Donald E. Govil, hanarory member of the class af '64.

PROM-GOER TURNED CONNOISSEUR, Cynthio Brandley samples cotered gaurnel.

PORTHOLE DISPLAY lures little boy to toothpick rooster.

TRAFFIC DIRECTORS Miss Mary Jo McMarraw signals tableroom for two more flapjacks while apranned coffee crewman pours second helpings.

for fund drives, basketball tournament

Mr. Frank Gradisher reset tables for next rush of breakfasters.

Student enthusiasm for ticket sales smashed records and dubbed fifth annual pancake breakfast "largest in the world". PTA divvied out proceeds to school clubs and departments.

Pancakers boasting six dollar ticket sales convened in auditorium March 21 for 105 minute lark by the Kingsmen. Fivesome, commenting on "Louie, Louie", tossed two souvenir neckties and a drumstick to audience.

High-ticket-selling seventh graders earned ring-side rights in capacity crowd. Kingsmen escaped throng of autograph hunters by pulling out as decoy car held fans.

Eight Gavit boys joined cohorts from Griffith and Hammond High for Mr. Sam Spitale's basketball team. Entered in the Whiting Community Basketball League, team boasted record of eleven wins and five losses.

LUGGING six days' wardrobe, juniors Julio Socullo and Jane Dibblee concoct plans for Washington trip.

FADISTS Sally Bewley, Leone Skolnik and George Clorke model year's crazes—pinned up or cosuol hair, knee-high boots, John Lennon cops, jumpers, textured nylons, stocked heels, windbreakers and black suede shoes.

LEVER-PULLING pollsters electing President, Governor and state senators file past clerks en route to lobby voting machine.

World events, fads bombard Gavit

Presidential election brought Lyndon Johnson's campaign to East Chicago, rallying 40,000 people including Gavit students. Barry Goldwater tabbed equal time at Hammond Civic Center, overflowing 7,000 seating capacity. Political enthusiasm for Presidential election engulfed students with slogan buttons and unofficial lunchroom campaigning.

British and Steelworkers' elections set Wilson and Abel in the cockpits.

Civil rights pilgrimages and demonstrations spirited discussions, debates, and private conversations on integration vs. segregation.

World's eye focused on international Viet Nam crisis as high school senior boys faced reality of impending draft.

World mourned statesmen Winston Churchill, General MacArthur and Herbert Hoover while clergy lost Cardinal Meyer to cancer. Warren Report reminded Americans of Kennedy tragedy.

Sports enthusiasts thrilled to United States gold medals captured at Tokyo Olympics. St. Louis Cardinals literally flew away with World Series, pocketing four straight games from the New York Yankees.

"Hullabaloo", "Shindig" and "Hollywood-a-go-go" popularized British-imported Beatles, Dave Clark Five, the Kinks, Chad and Jeremy, Petula Clark and Dusty Springfield.

ELECTION CONTROVERSY hits high-water mark as standard-bearer Dave Rose, senior, leads hall campaign for "Barry's boys".

Academics

Gals pioneer in nursing, management

HOME NURSING ENTHUSIASTS turn into a captured audience as Miss Mary Jo McMorrow demonstrates a phase of child care.

Novice homemakers initiated two new courses—home nursing and home management.

Bandages in hand, home nursing gals mastered first aid and care of the sick. Classes trekked to Holy Cross and St. Margaret Hospitals to get first-hand medical information.

Home management topics ranged from dating and marriage to budgeting and interior decorating. All-girl enrollment forced two classes to “import” boys to acquire male opinions.

Apron clad chefs in Foods I stirred through omelets, breads and doughnuts. Christmas cookie party topped high schoolers’ semester.

Foods II cooks plotted menus of casseroles, meats and ended semester with study of table settings. Hosting high school clothing teachers and classes at spring luncheon, foods students displayed their white-thumb ability.

Clothing I seamstresses needled their way through pin cushions, blouses, straight skirts, simple dresses and jumpers.

Thimble fingers armed with needles and thread stitched through pleated skirts and dresses in Clothing II classes.

INGREDIENTS and measuring cups preluded the outcome of a new recipe by cooks Nancy Pickett, Nancy Lewis and Nancy Nelson.

WIELDING SCISSORS AND PINS, sophomore seamstresses Sherri Sparks and Sharan Orlanda tackle dress patterns in Clothing I.

examination from Sandra Fritz and Linda Bailey in home nursing.

TAKING MEASUREMENT for screw thread, metal shop student Dan Gilfillan follows master plan for machinist's vice.

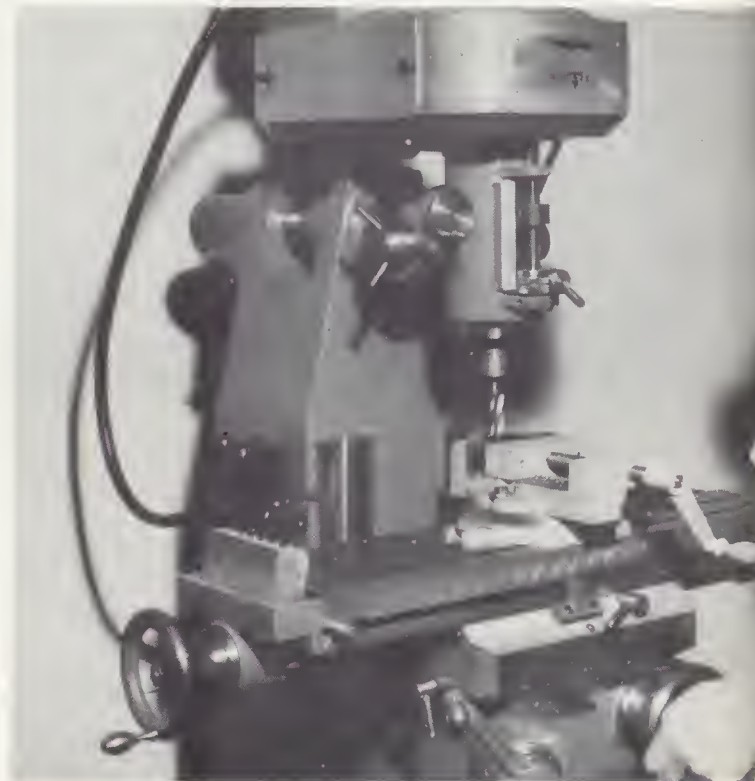

New east wing houses industrial arts

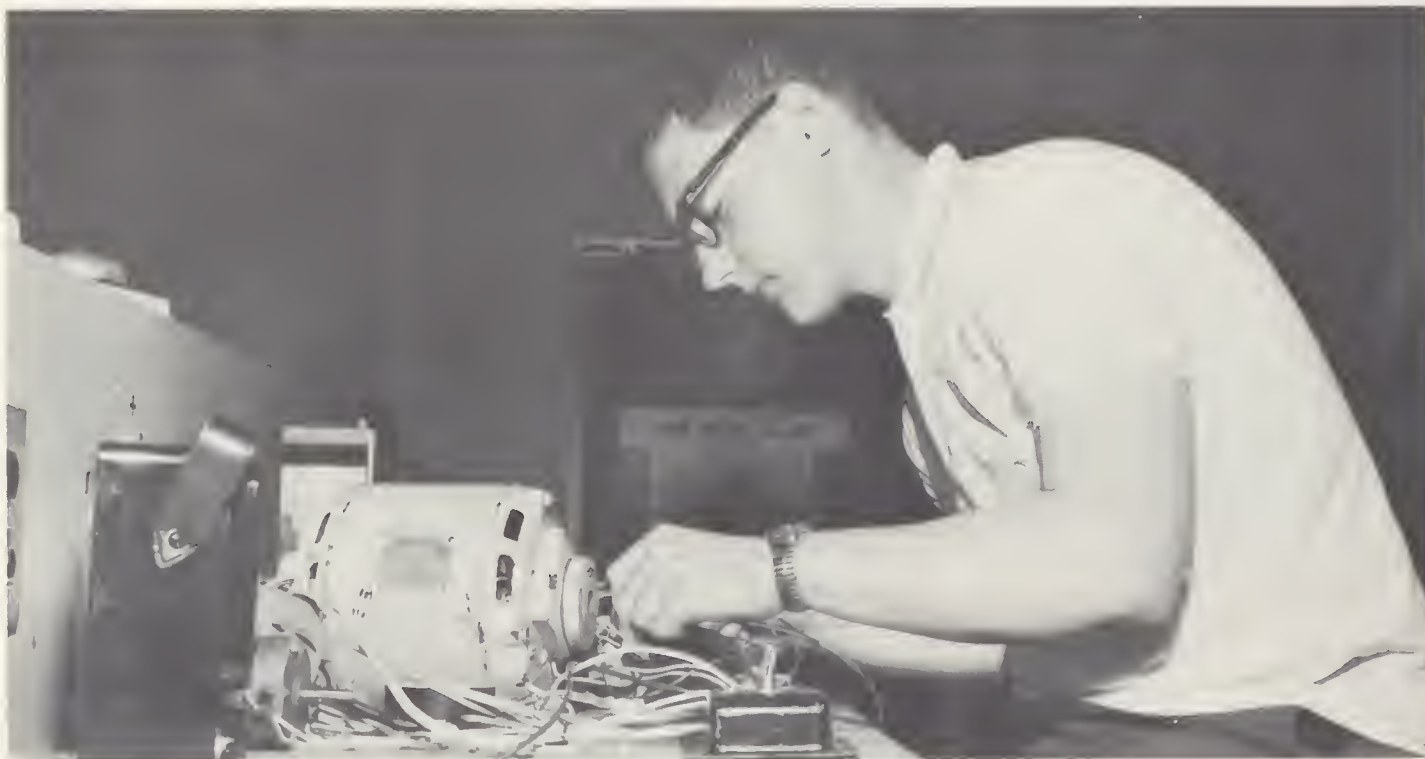

With addition of shops, Gavit emerged as first Hammond school to offer six workshops. Classes met in the library while equipment, stacked in the hall, awaited installment.

Mr. Erwin Brauer, wood shop instructor, oversaw ability to manipulate jigsaw to jointer. Boys' maiden project was designing original boxes. Later, shopsters branched out on their separate projects.

Initial electricity classes constructed transformers and work panels. Students wired circuits and tried their hands at an automatic coffee pot. Volt ohmmeters and oscilloscopes became familiar implements.

Welding helmets crowned the heads of those who worked near the welding stations in metal shop. Wooden spinning lathes turned aluminum into bowls and light fixtures.

SETTING UP apparatus, senior Jim Biolker prepares to reverse motor in electricity shop, new elective.

PROTECTED by a plastic eye shield, metal shop student Steve Botsko mills the jaw for a machinist's parallel clamps on a vertical milling machine.

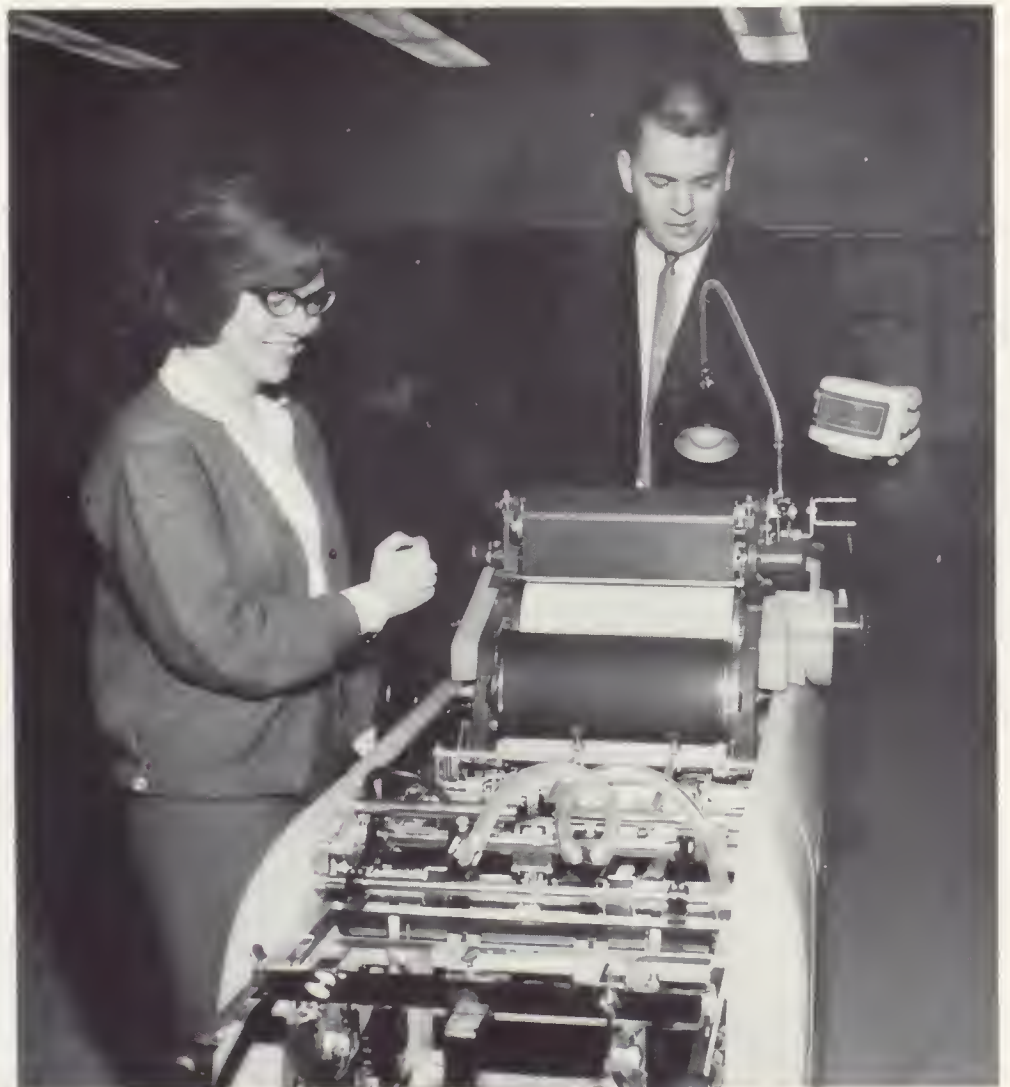

COILED vacuum tube whisks away shavings as wood shop students Tom Guzek and Dove Bough smooth a plank on electric planer.

MECHANICAL DRAWING PENCIL is introduced to drafters as they bear with conditions of library class-space during first weeks of school.

NEW PRESS, operated by Kathy Farley and Mr. Richard Clausen, produces offset Scroll.

ASPIRING GOURMETS Joe Gurnak, Jim Linowski and Bob Simpson initiate boys' foods.

Gooley fingers trademark boys' crafts

New facilities introduced graphic arts course encompassing whole publishing field. Mass production yielded student activities calendar. Futura reject pictures were reproduced for calendars on the offset press.

Linotype machine hummed with tickets, programs and posters for school plays, concerts, dances and prom. Printers inked hands for publishing the Scroll. Photography, bookbinding, silk screen, offset and letterpress prompted graphic arts shop talk.

Apprehension and curiosity gave way to hungry stomachs as boys enrolled in first boys' foods class offered at Gavit. Task of slicing grapefruit brought out napkins to wipe juicy faces as boys insisted their blueberry muffins were supposed to result in green hues.

TYPE CASE, composing stick, leads and slugs amass handset line of type for graphic artsman Ron Soczowa.

Consumer economics debuts in business

RIVETING one eye on textbook, the other on steno pad, senior Linda Lacko jots down brief forms in speed-building shorthand assignment.

Computing taxes, tariffs, and social security benefits, high schoolers initiated new consumer economics to business roster.

Boning up on banking, life insurance and checking accounts, general business students caught a glimpse of the business world.

Gavel-rapping business law students staged mock court sessions after trekking to Hammond City Court. Student attorneys championed their clients, then jury deliberated and handed down verdict of "guilty" or "not guilty."

Business management and math turned students into industrial tycoons.

Peddling merchandise from coat hangers to aquariums, students-turned-salesmen analyzed customer demand in Salesmanship I.

Balancing accounts receivable and payable, bookkeepers battled to stay "in the black" of general ledgers. High schoolers adopted new accounting machine to reduce pencil work.

Adding machines, calculators and duplicators tasked nimble fingers of clerical practicers.

Typing, shorthand and transcription readied novice stenographers for secretarial jobs.

STATIONED BEHIND ELECTRIC TYPEWRITERS, Evelyn Merchant and Sandy McCance decipher dictation during two-hour Transcription I.

MR. EARL FRUEHLING cites a business rule for work-bookkeeping law students.

MASTERING mimeoscope, ten-key adding machine and fluid duplicator produces intent expressions on Sandy McCance, Marguerite Mrzlack and Susan Lucas.

FLANKED by adding machine, textbook, senior John Linville and Karen Stringham ponder over bookkeeping

Physical science, BSCS spark roster

FEIGNING A FRACTURE, Terry Baran lends on arm while Peter Dwars practices bandage wrapping in health and safety.

Clad in safety goggles and lab aprons, high schoolers topped Bunsen burners with beakers of melted glass and sulfur in Chemistry I, II.

Biological scientific curriculum study, new teaching approach, sparked Biology I, II. Scent of formaldehyde drifted through third floor hall as second semester biology students plodded through seven dissections.

Evolution and genetics taxed minds of advanced biology students. Biologists trekked to Dunes to bone up on ecological succession.

Physics students tested their aim with air rifle and target in ballistics experiments. Physicists colored clear tape purple and gold by using polarized light.

Trading test tubes for wrenches, physical scientists turned into mechanics to assemble an engine. Rock and soil collections sent high schoolers scavenging and collecting.

Plastic skeleton, eye, ear and heart models emphasized structure and systems of the human body in health and safety classes.

GRASSHOPPER'S ANATOMY sends junior biologists Sally Stenholm and Pat DeGraat brandishing tweezers to perform the outopsy.

PHYSICISTS Corol Roper and Gerry Nagdemon concentrate on balancing the boom in composition of forces experiment.

COAXING WATER THROUGH FUNNEL, senior Alan Hochmon experiments in physical science to prove air occupies space.

THREE-FOOT SLIDE RULE and log table aid mathematicians Dennis Darmoc, Al Detteline and Gene Marie Dutro in Trigonometry I.

WITH X's, Y's and theorems floating through their minds, sophs Larry Steinkraus and Dick Winkley collaborate to solve UICSM III problem.

SIMPLIFYING ALGEBRAIC EQUATION, freshman Rick Biancardi slides plastic plate to line up solution in Algebra I.

Calculators cultivate ancient theorems

On recommendation of North Central Association, mathematics department ended 40-desk classes to alleviate overcrowding.

General mathmen canvassed basic arithmetic. Students juggled income tax forms and struggled for black ink budgets. Preview of algebra and geometry rounded out year-long term.

Algebra classes deciphered equations, ratios and formulas. Notebooks of homework and tests stored reference and review material. Handed in at six week intervals, folders determined period's effort grade.

Angles of triangles, octagons and squares taxed gray matter of geometry students.

Setting personal speed rates, UICSM mathematicians tackled geometrical theories with self-proofs. Frequent quizzes kept students alert during classtime. Hard bound books relieved shredded green paperbacks.

SOLVING triangular bisection problem, Mrs. Marsha Prater explains acute angles as Geometry I students correct overnight assignments.

BRANDISHING mathematicians' tools, sophs John Jezierski and Shirley Banks rely on protractor and compass in Math II problem.

NEWSCIPPINGS aid Mr. John Swanson's contemporary history class pass verdict on Ku Klux Klan.

Social studies hosts marchers' panel

"Buying" shares, economics classes mimicked Wall Street tactics for two months.

Geography, background and philosophy of China, Japan and South East Asia enchanted Far East history. New elective boarded South Shore for a tour of the Chicago Art Institute and lunch at Chinese restaurant.

Students participated in panels and debates during government class. Nine St. Joseph collegiates presented a candid commentary of their pilgrimage to Selma, Alabama. Miss Diane Clinton, chairman of social studies department, sponsored the discussion April 6.

Geography comprised culture, economy, physical and political features of a country. Book reports, oral reports and group projects supplemented daily lectures.

Every six weeks a critical review of a book was required of U.S. history. Recordings rendered historic speeches and events.

Requisite for world history was research for individual and panel reports.

BOOT-SHAPED MAP of Italy lures Jane Daugherty, Katrina Bentley, Barb Housley, Eileen Kasenga and Karen Hester to Renaissance trade routes.

DISAPPOINTED GOLDWATER FAN Ed Zivich and helper Jack Elmore recount Johnson's winning ballots from government classes' mock-Presidential election. Recount duplicated first tally's percentages—Johnson, 57%; Goldwater, 43% of 209 votes cast.

WAX PENCIL in hand, geography instructor Mr. Lorry Bewley magnifies lecture notes with overhead projector.

"How da I explain the tritz?" shrugs Miss Valarie Goluch, English lit. teacher . . . as class absorbs demonstration of new step invented by their prof. . . .

English classes back Elizabethan Fair

BEATY vs. Creative Writing Class resumes as Andrea defends Marcher in Henry James' Beast in the Jungle.

Second semester modernized curriculum by dropping class titles and inserting term "English" before numerals V-VIII. Revised program incorporated reading with grammar.

English IV and V students waded through American classics Walden, Scarlet Letter and Billy Budd to capture pitch of individualism.

Offsetting English and American literature, students pantomimed reindeer, Santa Claus and mice in hepped-up version of "Twas the Night before Christmas".

Elizabethan era came alive through English VIII course while students reviewed modern English novels Lord Jim, Animal Farm and Lord of the Flies. Elizabethan Fair exhibited lit students' wares reminiscent of Renaissance.

Feud over banjo strumming or picking brought one-man hootenanny to creative writing.

World literature class pored over globe authors from Homer to Dostoevsky.

Journalism reporters applied tricks of the trade to sample newspapers and yearbooks.

"TRITZ can't be explained," concluded Miss Goluch. "You just tritz."

MME. DEFARGE comes alive for English IV students as Leslie Farmer reads excerpt from Tale of Two Cities describing knitted secret code.

"MULTIPLE GUESS" test on "The Neckloce" baffles English I students as they rehash week's class discussion.

Lab helps linguists lap up languages

Accenting all four languages courses, new labs quizzed linguists in biweekly sessions with earphones and tape recorders.

Strains of "Alloute", "Les Cloches", and "Au Clair de la Lune" ascended from first to third year French students. Student-sketched maps of France earmarked emphasis on culture.

Viewing Mr. Martin Hunt's German slides and translating adventure of Emil und die Detective spiced grammar and translation.

Gods and goddesses of Greek and Roman mythology reigned in Latin classes. "Travels with Caesar" were pursued on maps as students likened Roman military forces to U.S. Army.

Cuban, Mr. Jose Alvarez exchanged traditions with his students through pinata, toro, password and basketball. Latin American coins, flags and emblems arrayed bulletin boards.

DRAPED IN TOGAS, junior Dennis Frazier and freshman Linda Fyfe wield Roman replicas—fasces, symbol of authority and headdress.

PILOT Karen Brenman maneuvers through "Je Parle Français" repetition drill with instrument panel of October-installed language labs.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBER minus mountain, junior Walt Wozniak puffs away an Alpine pipe while modeling "leder hasen", Bavarian bermudas.

MIXED CHORUS—Front row: B. Callahan, D. Williams, P. Kujawa, S. Mustae, D. Jones (pres.), C. Bueharler, D. Balder, P. Baren, W. Gleason. Second row: M. Decrescenza, J. Davenport, J. Oprisko, B. YOGA POSITIONS and wriggling pens spell "unit test."

GROUNDING FRESHMEN boot the first volley across to initiate new stationary sport, crab soccer.

Flying rings, balcony enhance gyms

Athletes strived for scoring skills in year-round program of sports activities.

Balcony, devoid of shops, served as shuffleboard court for female athletes while mainfloor cohorts mastered volleyball and badminton. All purpose room doubled as bowling alley when girls learned strike-spare routine.

Stressing co-ordination, squads fabricated dance steps. Speedball, soccer and softball ranked as out-of-door activities.

On opposite side of dividing door, boys assumed crab-like postures for unique crab soccer, newly devised by gym department.

Youths tackled wrestling holds and scrambled for basketball rebounds. New flying rings and side horse maintained gym standard of olympic size equipment. Flag football, "soccey" and handball emphasized outdoor sports.

EYEING THE SOCCER BALL, freshmen "kickers" battle to rack up a two-pointer.

Artists' inspiration, skill yield creativity

Determined not to cage their creativity in third floor art rooms, amateur artists switched to interior decorators—Gavit style.

Animating the halls, artists joined forces to deck showcases in paintings, sculpture.

Fold-and-cut paper snowflakes dressed lobby windows in Christmas atmosphere.

Water color canvases turned administration offices, library into miniature art galleries.

Spring's Fine Arts Festival enabled artists and sculptors to exhibit their work.

While first-semester artists concentrated on two dimensions, Art II sketchers focused on three dimensional projects.

Art I daubers donned smocks to preserve school activities in tempera colors.

Clay-covered hands of Art II students molded statues while others outfitted with scissors snipped paper sculpture.

Third-semester students operated on individual basis, carving wood and copper foil.

PAINT-DIPPED CARDBOARD pinch-hits for brush as freshman Kathy Tavor touches up a sketch of cheerleaders in Art I.

"TOOTHBRUSH PAINTING," junior Nick Hether experiments with color and three dimensions in art projects class.

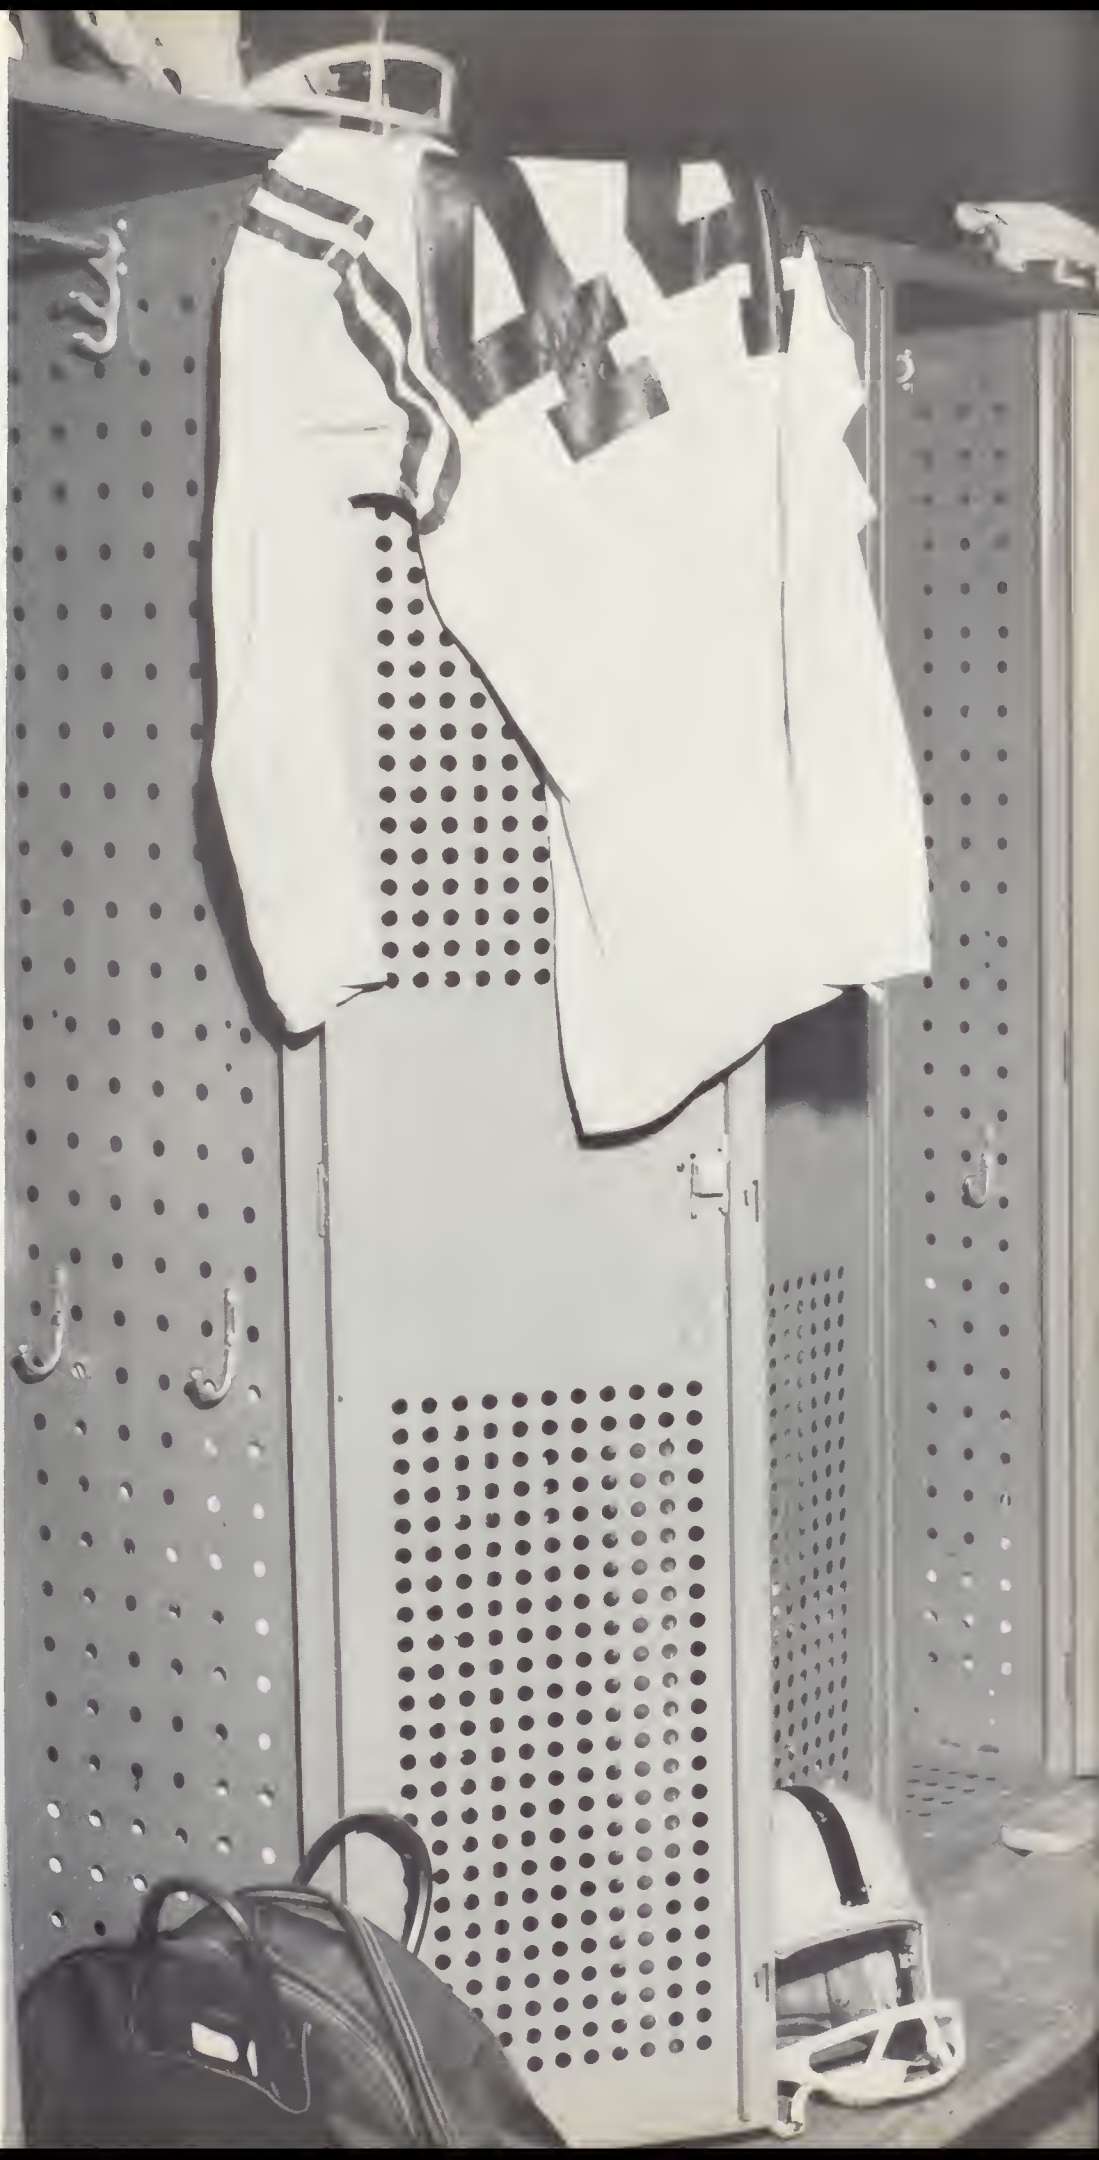

PROOFING SILK SCREEN STENCIL, Norm Peschke produces cards while Wendy Franey carves a pattern.

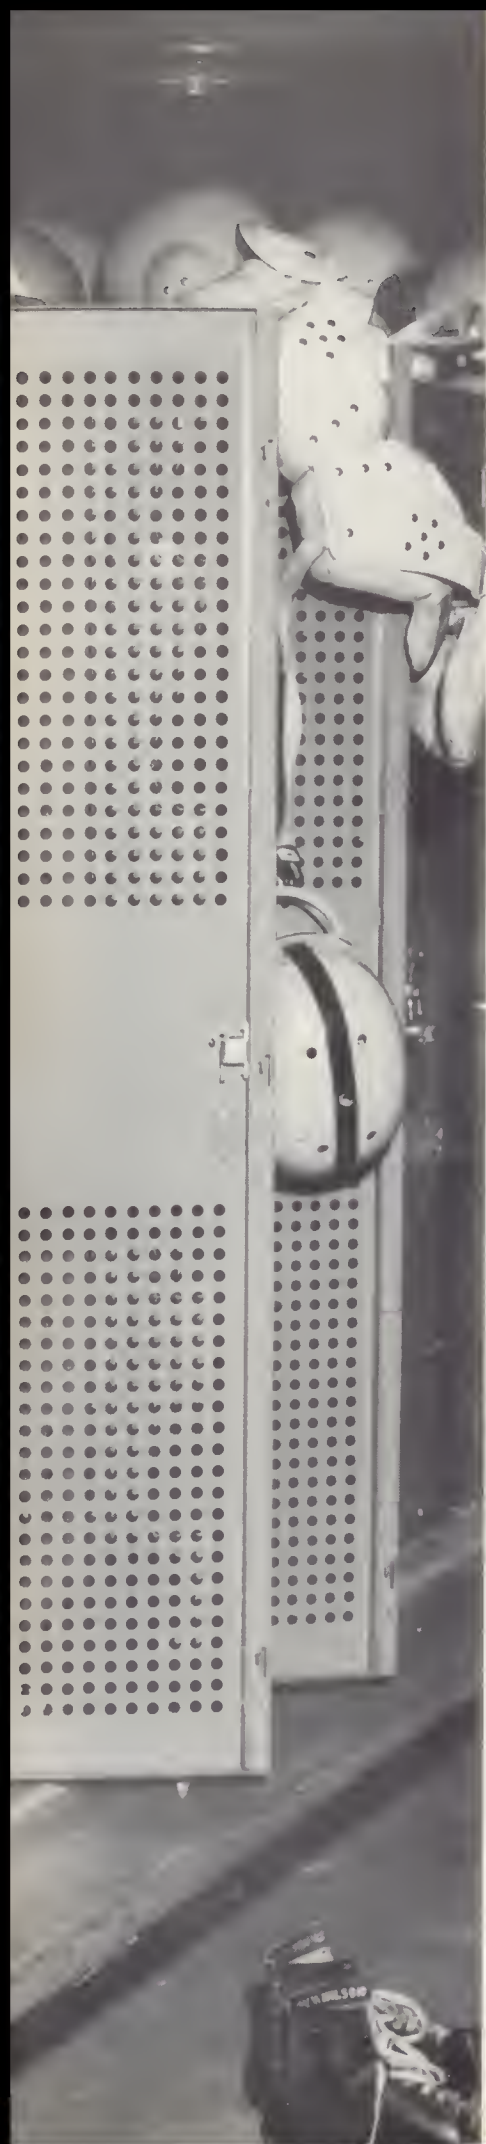

CLAY, water and skilled hands of Art II sculptor Don Knighten equal ingredients for abstract statue.

SURROUNDED by wood shavings and carving tools, senior sculptor Bob Croft chisels his way through block of oak in art projects class.

Gridders pound out winning season

PASS SNATCHER Al Froser shakes off attempted interception and zeroes toward homecoming touchdown from the 50-yard line.

Gladiator gridmen, building around nucleus of hardened backfield men, posted winning record of 6-3, one win short of last season's.

Gavit fought to 0-0 tie with Tech and Dyer in opening football-o-rama. GHS launched regular season by downing Lowell Red Devils 12-6.

Gladiators trooped to Wildcat territory for their first clash with HHS. GHS garnered 17 first downs to HHS 7, but fell 28-6 as the Wildcats took advantage of three Gavit miscues.

Gavit gridmen stomped Rennsalaer 26-7, handing Bombers their first defeat of season.

Griffith's Panthers, only team to defeat Gavit three consecutive years, outran Glads 20-12. Gavit tallied 17 first downs to Griffith's 3, but errors cost GHS the game.

Gladiators initiated tradition of spoiling homecomings by grinding out 6-0 victory over T.F. South and edging Dyer 27-26.

Inaugurating new scoreboard by posting 45-6 victory, Gladiators smashed River Forest Ingots in homecoming battle on home turf.

Displaying year's best aerial show, Glad gridmen whipped Clark's Pioneers 34-14 under the lights, breaking 14-14 half-time tie.

Revenge-minded Tech Tigers clawed GHS with 21-7 defeat, ending '64-'65 season.

Prevarsity grid teams total 8 victories

Reserve gridmen closed their season with a record of 4-1-3, losing their only game to Tech 21-0. Gavit went on to defeat Clark 19-0 and rout River Forest 25-6. They overwhelmed Lowell 19-6 and nipped Marion Catholic 14-7.

Gladiators fought to a 6-6 deadlock with Hammond High, tied Morton 13-13 and took a draw with East Chicago Roosevelt 21-21.

Freshmen footballers posted a winning record of four wins, two losses and one tie.

Frosh won 7-0 over East Chicago Roosevelt. Following the ECR game, Hammond High downed the young Gladiators 19-7.

In their third outing, Freshmen suffered their second setback, losing to Clark 19-7. Gavit rebounded against Whiting while setting a school scoring record against the Oilers 46-0. GHS and Morton fought to a 0-0 tie.

Two wins in a row over Tech and River Forest by scores of 12-7 and 18-0, respectively, closed the season at 4-2-1.

Cagers close .500, cop 2nd in tourney

Varsity basketball team, coached by Mr. Norman Banas and paced by shooting ace Jack Elmore, posted a 10-10 season record.

Gavit opened by downing city rival Hammond Tech and upsetting Griffith in a 62-60 squeaker on the Panther hardwood.

GHS fans and players had their moments as Jack Elmore sank a last-second 60-foot shot for an Andrean tie, then lost in overtime. Bishop Noll, the only team besides Gavit to reach the century mark in the GHS gym, did so in defeating the Gladiators 100-83.

In the season's final game, GHS rooters approached hysteria as Elmore won the Region scoring title with a four-foul handicap.

In its third sectional outing, Gavit lost to Hammond Clark. Underclassmen demonstrated 1966 capabilities in senior-junior game.

The 10-10 record is the best to date as the Glads finished 9-11 in 63-64 and 2-18 in the 62-63 cage season.

Matmen finish 10-2, win MHS tourney

Gavit's varsity grapplers ranked among the region's best in compiling a 10-2 winning record in dual meet competition.

GHS wrestlers clinched the Morton Invitational Wrestling Tourney championship, third place in the Hammond sectionals and seventh out of twenty-one teams in state regionals.

Juniors Greg Looman and Roy Stover both won sectional championships and finished runners-up in the regional tournament at East Chicago Washington High School.

Reserve matmen garnered a matching season under the coaching of Mr. Rolland Beckham—one of Gavit's newest coaches.

GHS wrestlers lost their first meet to Tech 25-19. Gavit's only other loss came as Morton downed the Gladiators 26-11.

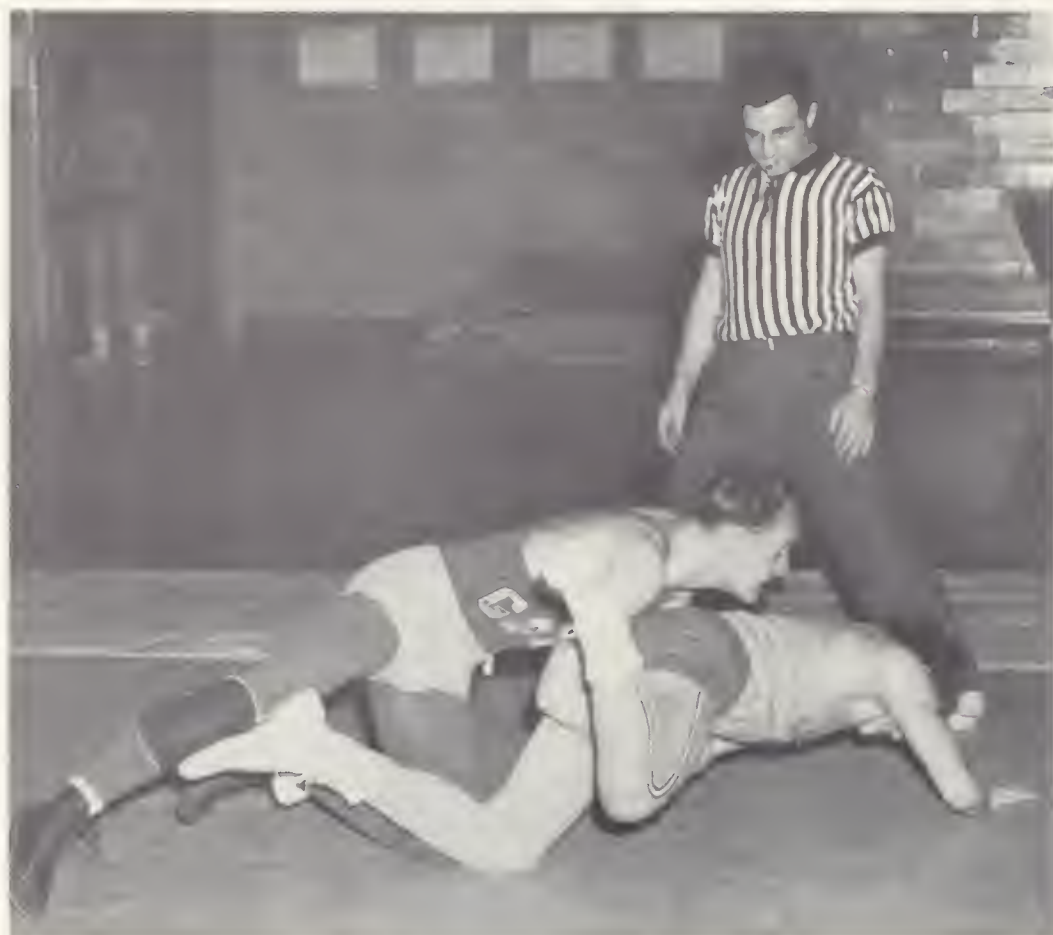

Gavit downed its remaining foes by substantial scores over Dyer Central, Griffith, Highland, Bishop Noll Institute, River Forest, Hammond High, Hammond Clark, Andrean, T.F. North and Marion Catholic.

Harriers surpass previous records

Coach Earl Freuhling's cross-country team bettered their first varsity season record by posting a six and three record. Gavit's harriers defeated Hammond Tech, T.F. North, Dyer, T.F. South, Chicago Heights and Highland.

Thinlies finished third in the Hammond City Meet and ranked third out of twelve Andrean Invitational teams. Gladiators finished tenth out of the twenty teams in the sectionals.

Harriers bowed to Merrillville, Morton and Gary Andrean, top contenders in the region.

Cross-country Jim Berger (MVP) paced the team with six first places and finished in the top ten in the sectionals.

Return of two veteran thinclads boosts Gavit's NWC hopes in next falls competition.

Participating in their second track season, Coach Earl Thompson's thinclads gained valuable experience in region competition.

Led by Most Valuable Player Dave Kwolek, cindermen were nosed out in early season competition but bounced back with strong showings in the Andrean, Noll and Clark Relays.

In the 1965 indoor season, GHS tracksters finished in the top five of the 22-team Bishop Noll Relays and finished second in the Hammond City Indoor Meet at the University of Chicago Fieldhouse.

Next season's entrance into the NWC will present tougher competition and a team rating with sixteen NWC rivals.

BREAKING THE TAPE in the anchor leg of the Noll 440 relay, Dave Kwolek scores a first for the Gladiotar thinclads.

All-star teams, trophies title lettermen

Individual and team honors became major part of athletics at Gavit during the past season. Gladiators showed their capabilities and promises as the athletic year progressed. Two Gladiators rated first string honors on the first tri-city all-star team. Four other athletes were named as alternates.

Jack Elmore was rated as the region's highest scorer as he completed the regular season with a 23 point average. Named to Chicago Tribune's All-star team by area coaches, he received a certificate of honor.

Greg Looman and Roy Stover were the first Gavit wrestling sectional champs. Both were defeated in the final rounds of the regionals.

Dave Rose achieved Gavit's highest sports honor as he was named athlete of the year for his outstanding scholastic and athletic achievements in three sports.

The Lettermen's Club continued its duties as a service organization. Along with sponsoring dances and the concession stand, it maintained high standards of achievement.

WRESTLERS Greg Looman and Roy Stover copped sectional championships and placed second in regional competition.

Tortillas, Ides, bingo spark interest

Roman-garbed Latin clubsters spoofed Caesar in meeting-long drama, "Rinse the Blood off my Toga". Latin rendition of "Little Red Riding Hood", complete with homemade hood, ensued.

Half the gains from "Ides Plus V" dance March 20 swelled club scholarship fund.

French and Art clubsters joined forces to eye Art Institute exhibits. February 11 soiree, hosted by Bishop Noll Institute, launched plans for spring soiree at Gavit.

Tacos, enchiladas, arroz and American Coke spiced Spanish Club fiesta Dec. 19.

Smashing of carmel-crammed pinata capped "La Fiesta Pan-Americana" April 10. All-purpose room doubled as Spanish cafe.

Two multi-colored canvases of "mariachis" and two full portraits of bullfighters lent Spanish air to language labs and library.

Staff adds color to expanded book

Futura greeted color with red striped division pages to sketch story of year.

School expansion, new equipment, swelled enrollment and faculty, and vote into Northwest conference inspired "Sky's the limit" theme.

Forty-page increase fattened book to 208 layouts. Separate activities and junior high sections complemented ad and academic inflation.

Converted headlines, switches from three to two-column layout and from metro to schoolbook body copy remolded yearbook style.

Fall sales campaign, sloganed "208 colors Futura", topped 1,000 mark as homeroom representatives corraled three-dollar deposits.

Braving cockroach-infested dormitory, editor Jane Messman, copy editor Linda Lula and business manager Andi Stevenson mapped out book at Indiana University Institute. Linda emerged with fourth-place copywriting award.

New adviser Miss Carol Ann Socks okayed book blueprints for returning girls.

Teas, luncheons, favors tag societies

National Honor Society inducted 17 junior initiates at evening rites March 2. White-robed senior officers recounted steps in scholarship before rope-strung triangular set.

After-school faculty tea March 11 prompted conversation between Society members and teachers. Projections forecast plans to invite Dr. Joseph Hendrick to speak in late spring.

Suit-clad Rotarians lent ears to prominent citizens of Calumet Region at monthly Rotary Club luncheons at Masonic Temple.

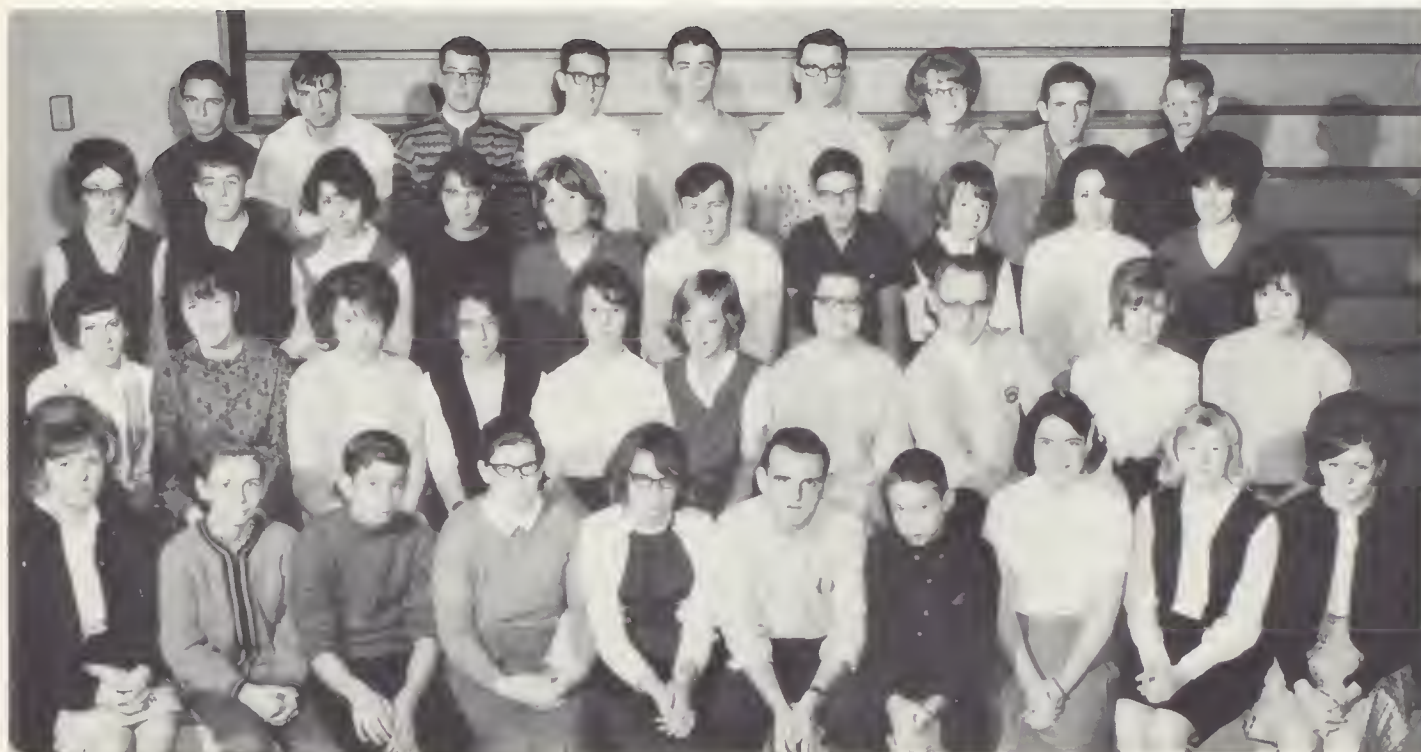

Miniature pilgrim favors, presented by Red Cross members, brightened Thanksgiving lunch trays at Parramore Hospital. One boy and one girl, sponsored by Red Cross, absorbed week-long summer camp courses in leadership.

Group donated funds for campus landscaping to new Conservation Club.

Queen, slide rule checkmate Einsteins

Affiliation with Future Scientists of America Association highlighted year's accomplishments for Science Club members.

Swapping stamps crowned docket for Philatelic Club. Members juggled shoptalk terms "first day cover" and "plate block".

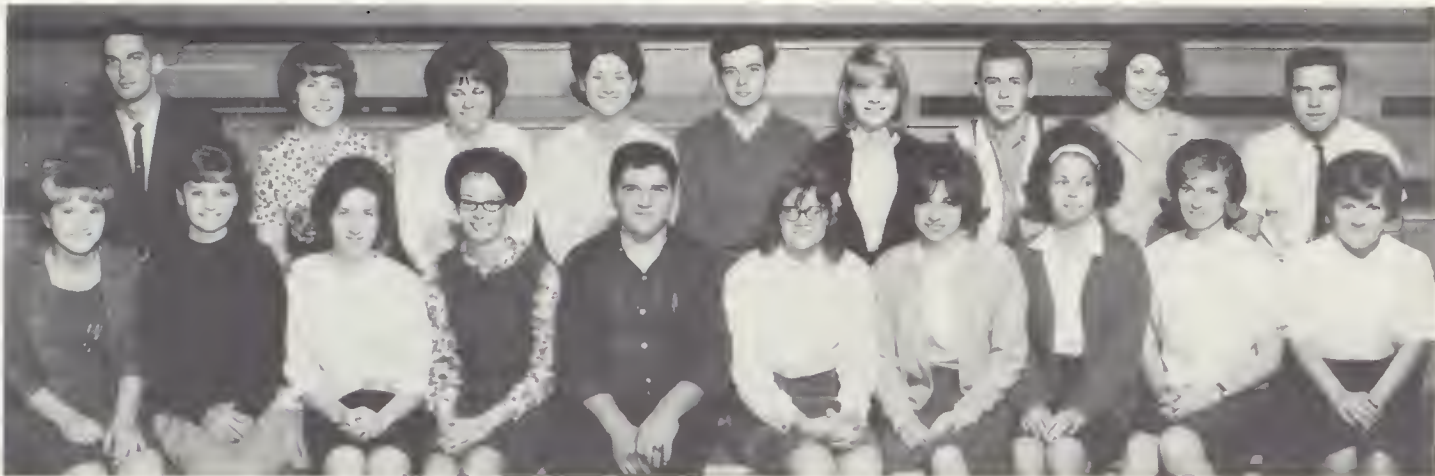

Math Club conquered complexities of slide rule and calculating machines. Number bases and scientific exponents claimed examination in A-club meeting time.

Chessmen challenged Highland, Dyer and Tech at scheduled Saturday meets. With fund snow-balled by member donations, club cupboarded new chess boards and gear.

Glue, memos, accuracy vital to aides

Receiving calls, filing, and running errands drew volunteers to counselors' aid.

Taking temperatures, applying ice packs and charting referrals rounded out daily routine for nurse's assistants.

Library assistants hounded forgetful book worms for lost and overdue books and administered first aid to broken-backed volumes.

High school audio-visual assistants traced technical equipment through a magnetized miniature layout of the school.

Sixty monitors patrolled halls, checked admits and collected attendance slips.

New directors shoulder growing pains

Revamp of top administration created new offices. Miss Betty Lundahl, counselor, became Director of Student Activities; Mr. Eugene Swaim, former counselor at Hammond High, undertook Dean of Students office.

Mr. William Sippel, former biology teacher, shouldered office of assistant principal.

Revolutionized school calendar prolonged classes until Christmas Eve. Stolen week was regained at Eastertide vacation.

Enrollment stabilized at 1,850 due to end of entering mid-term classes.

Shopless mechanical drawing, temporarily "air-conditioned" hallways during zero weather and construction dust storms on third floor were instigated by continuing building.

Addition of fine arts and industrial arts wings swelled curriculum and relieved crowded conditions and desk-filled lobby, cramped classrooms and overflowing assemblies.

Mr. William Sippel, assistant principal.

Second graduating

Class trip, funds campaign, banquet and commencement highlighted '65 for seniors.

Three-week campaign to sell chocolate produced 700 dollars for 1965 class gift, solid walnut lectern for newly-opened auditorium.

Baggage-burdened seniors boarded trains Oct. 20, headed for week-long trip of sightseeing on New York-Washington trip, while others toiled to complete homecoming float themed "The Gavit Way."

Kado-pen autographed beige cords were first donned by seniors on Sept. 25 at cords dance and were worn each succeeding Friday.

Sighs of disgust, looks of bewilderment and drained brains marked seniors taking SAT, achievement and college entrance exams.

Seniors bequeathed useless items to needful underclassmen in wills at banquet May 28.

Presentation of awards to deserving seniors highlighted Senior Honors Assembly.

Baccalaureate and graduation solemnized termination of high school for 214 purple-robed seniors in new auditorium June 9.

New shops offer pre-apprenticeships

Seventh and eighth grades underwent major changes this year as "junior high" was changed to "middle school" and the entire curriculum was revised to offer electives.

Six hundred seventy-two "linguists" conversed in French, Spanish or German and elected visual arts, boy's foods, dramatics, speech and journalism. Machines and menus charged spirits as boys wielded tools in electricity, drafting and metal shops or donned aprons to try a hand at cooking. Language and science alternated after nine week grading periods.

Aspiring actors and actresses conquered stage fright as they entertained their classmates. Journalism classes wrote stories, joined Futura and published first middle school paper, the Germ, advised by Miss Carol Ann Socks.

Graduation January 21 marked finish of ceremonies in gym. Eighth graders moved to auditorium for June rites.

VOLTS, WIRES and cathode ray tubes electrically challenge Mark Cane and Ronnie Baker in experimental electronics.

PROPORTIONING BLUEPRINTS, Kevin Black and Tony Eddleman copy floor plans for tri-level home in exploratory drafting.

BORDERED by GOP presidential formula, LBJ fans Betsy Smith, Andy Sciortino and Lindo Zuffa launch minor political campaign.

EYES GLUED ON COPY, middle schooler Joanna Moser wards off errors as she tops her way through typing speed drills.

JUGGLING POLYHEDRON FIGURES, Patricia Posey computes non-metric problems with cubes and triangles in accelerated mathematics.

FRENCH MAP inspires itinerary of trip for Lenore Kaminski and Robert Stookey.

Curriculum expands with new courses

"VEINTE-Y-UNO" calls Spanish bingo player Richard Lynch as Gary Long searches for winning numbers.

Middle schoolers discovered language, foreign and domestic, through new curriculum. Dramatists fractured fairy tales to test originality. Amateurs pantomimed scenes assigned by drama coach, Mrs. Bernice Johnson.

"Jacque a Dit" (Simon Says), question bees, crossword puzzles and tic-tac-toe played prominent roles in French class. Students chanted rounds of "Frerer Jaquer", and "Marseilles".

Beatlemania infiltrated Mr. Anthony Blasting's German classes in the form of "So gib mir diene Hand". To offset daily routine, students fixed German captions to magazine pictures.

Middle school journalism classes tackled monthly Germ. Journalists compiled column, editorial and straight news story notebooks. Mr. Clifford Long, manager of Miles Paints, spoke on advertising techniques in newspapers.

Candy-laden pinata attracted muchachos and muchachas at junior high Spanish fiesta March 26.

DRAMA invades classroom as middle-schoolers Robert Brehmer, Linn Knutsen, Cindy Clarke and Neena Natkin debut in production of "The Conceited Woman."

WORKBOOKING junior-higher Mark Saboff pencils in answers during middle school reading class.

INVESTIGATING yearbook and newspaper, novice pressmen Kathy Hlusko, Tam Bean, Carol Taylor and John Hudkins join ranks of reporters in first middle school journalism class of semester.

Inland Steel is here . . . for more than 70 years

For more than 70 years men and women have been building successful careers at Inland Steel. Today many of your relatives, friends and neighbors are working at the Indiana Harbor Works of Inland Steel in a wide variety of occupations providing steel that goes into bridges, buildings, refrigerators, ranges, farm machines, automobiles, tools, toys . . . into thousands of products that we use each day. Many are concentrating on certain phases of steelmaking by working in production departments. Others are working in laboratories helping to assure quality or developing new and better products for our customers.

Some are gaining knowledge and experience in special trades through formal apprenticeship programs offered in the following trades —Machinist, Patternmaking, Boilermaking, Welding, Shop Electrician, Wireman, Mason. Inland offers the high school graduate an excellent opportunity to further his education. Employees may participate in a variety of on-the-job training programs or the Purdue-Inland Training Program in which an employee may take a steelmaking, electrical or mechanical curriculum. Still others are continuing their formal education at one of the local extension centers.

Plan now to investigate the unlimited opportunities for you at INLAND STEEL . . .
